

You have the right to live with your parents unless it is bad for you. You have the right to be with a family that loves you. Children in care, children in abusive homes, children awaiting adoption	If you live in a different country than your parents do, you have the right to be together in the same place. Children who are migrants or refugees and separated from their families	You have the right to give your opinion and for adults to listen and take it seriously. Children who don't have a voice, who are mocked or bullied or belittled	You have the right to choose your own friends or join and set up groups, as long as it isn't harmful to others. Children who are isolated
You have the right to help from the government if you are poor or in need. Children who live in poverty and go to bed hungry	You have the right to protection from any kind of exploitation (being taken advantage of) Children who are exploited through the sex trade, through poorly paid work, who are forced to beg	You have the right to a good quality education. You should be encouraged to go to school to the highest level you can. Children who have no access to education	You have the right to play and to rest. Children who have to work long hours, who have nowhere to play, who don't have a safe place to sleep
You have the right to protection from work that harms you and is bad for your health and education. If you work, you have the right to be safe and paid fairly. Children in dangerous working conditions	You have the right to be free from sexual abuse. Children who are abused sexually or who are traumatised by inappropriate images or experiences.	No-one is allowed to kidnap or sell you. Children who are kidnapped or sold—for adoption, for their organs, for the sex trade, for slavery	You have the right to food, clothing, a safe place to live and to have your basic needs met. Children who are homeless or live in poverty, children who suffer neglect
You have the right to protection and freedom from war. Children under 15 cannot be forced to go into the army or take part in war. Children affected by war. Child soldiers	You have the right to legal help and fair treatment in the justice system that respects your rights. Children in prison, especially those who have not done anything wrong.	You have the right to practise your own culture, language and religion—or any you choose. Minority or indigenous groups need special protection of this right Children from minority/indigenous groups who suffer prejudice and discrimination, children in cults	You have the right to privacy Children who don't have a safe place to call their own, in crowded sleeping and toileting conditions,

