

VOCATIONS SUNDAY 2018

A new hymn for Vocations Sunday

Tune: Londonderry Air

O Lord I've heard your calling deep inside me
Although my fear prevents me saying yes.
My troubled soul cannot be used to serve you
And yet your word assures me otherwise.
O Lord you call the outcast and the stranger
The flawed and weak to do your work on earth
Your work is mine if I but say I'll follow
And serve you Lord to bring your kingdom to its birth.

O Lord your call to service is an honour
To love like Christ in thought and word and deed.
The Gospel call, proclaiming grace and mercy
Is mine to share with all humanity.
O Lord your call, it ceases and it fades not
Your Spirit prompts until your call we test
The church discerns, equips and sends us humbly
To serve you Lord to bring your kingdom to its birth.
